

Coverage for whatever's down the road.

Insure your operations and your inventory.

It takes thousands of parts to keep a car running optimally, and your customers depend on you to keep those parts in stock. Auto parts and supplies store insurance from Nationwide can help you manage common business disruptions and daily risks to minimize your losses.

Covering the unexpected.

Auto parts and supplies store insurance protects your business from everyday issues you face, including auto parts you sell or install that damage a customer's vehicle, potential customer slips on oily or greasy floors, damage to your building or product inventory, or computer systems going down.

Extend your protection.

We offer additional coverages and limits that go above and beyond your businessowners insurance, so ask us how we can tailor your insurance to fit your needs.
