

Protect the success
you've built.

Rely on strong protection to support innovation.

Businesses like yours help drive innovation and the economy. You can keep your company moving forward by safeguarding it from everyday risks like equipment breakdowns, injuries, and damage to your buildings, vehicles or goods. We can help you manage those types of common business disruptions and minimize losses with our light manufacturing insurance.

Covering the unexpected.

At Nationwide, our insurance provides protection when you need it most — for buildings damaged by fire or explosion or if you're faced with a defective product lawsuit. From regulatory compliance issues to equipment breakdowns to vehicle damage, we can help minimize common manufacturing exposures and keep your business running.

Extend your protection.
