

Protect business
as usual.

Plan for the unexpected.

Whether you own or lease your space, you know that office insurance is essential. It protects you from unexpected events that can seriously harm your viability — like breaches to customer records, equipment breakdowns, injuries and even natural disasters that could suspend business indefinitely. For times like these, office insurance from Nationwide helps you get back to business fast.

Covering the unexpected.

In this modern age, protecting sensitive customer data is more critical than ever. If important office files are stolen or lost, or if your building sustains damages, you're covered with Nationwide. We also have optional coverages to help protect digital customer records.

Extend your protection.

CYBER LIABILITY INSURANCE:

Provides options to help you respond quickly in the event of a data breach, including notifying customers and covering financial damages.

EQUIPMENT BREAKDOWN, UTILITIES AND SPOILAGE COVERAGE:

Helps cover the cost of fixing or replacing broken equipment, such as copy machines or computer systems, even in instances where the utility provider is at fault.

OFFICE PLUS:

Offers additional coverage and increased limits for things like lock replacement expenses, computer fraud, unauthorized business card use and worldwide coverage for laptops.

Setting the standard in business protection.

With Nationwide, these core coverages come standard.

PREMIER BUSINESSOWNERS LIABILITY INSURANCE:

Helps cover legal expenses if, for example, you face a lawsuit or if a visitor is injured on office property.

PREMIER BUSINESSOWNERS PROPERTY INSURANCE:

Helps cover the cost of repairing damage to an office as well as its contents.

VALUABLE PAPERS AND RECORDS COVERAGE:

Helps cover the cost of losing valuable records, including the cost to replace or restore them.
